Why Qatar?

Qatar is one of the wealthiest countries in the world in terms of GDP per capita. Qatar's economy is highly on oil and gas extraction which accounts for more than 50% of GDP, 85% of export earnings, and 70% of government revenues. Qatar's proven oil reserves exceed 25 billion barrels, and its natural gas reserves are the world's third largest.

Qatar is leading the Middle East in developing the most advanced fully multimodal transport network via Hamad International Airport, Doha Metro Rails, and Hamad Port, which has been a catalyst to the country's logistics and trade sector. This means, Qatar's economy is maturing and the government policy of economic diversification is working.

Qatar is now become as a world-class business and trade, sports, tourism and hospitality hub in Middle East. These industries are growing robustly due to the ministries and government agencies effort in achieving a common goal towards Qatar National Vision 2030 of a knowledge-based economy.

Welcome to MedFood 2018

While Qatar economy is rapidly progressing, the demand and supply of food is inevitable increasing due to the growth of local population, foreign worker and its tourism.

Qatar has become the most urbanized nations among the Middle East. Urban lifestyles have raised the standard of living of individuals and changed their eating pattern and food needs. With this consumption of premium products, Qatari and foreign residences has contributed to the big growth of the food industry.

About MedFood 2018

MedFood 2018 will strengthen and meet the standards of Qatari food industry and sector.

Qatar food production industry accounts for approximately 10% of the country's domestic consumption. Qatar depends mainly on food imports for local needs. Food consumption is forecast to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 8% up to 2019.

For international entrepreneurs and traders, as well as to the manufacturers, suppliers, food technology companies, and hospitality services on food and beverage, MedFood 2018 will be an excellent platform to open new vistas to foray into the emerging markets of Qatar.
